Dear Sir,

I am writing to express my deep concern about Dhondup Wangchen (当知项欠, dangzhi xiangqian), a Tibetan filmmaker from Hualong, Haidong (Qinghai), who was given a six year prison sentence on 28 December 2009.

He was detained in March 2008 for simply filming Tibetans in Tibet speaking about the Beijing Olympics, the Dalai Lama and their lives under Chinese rule. He has been tortured and is in very poor health. His only "crime" was to film Tibetans' peaceful expression of their views in the documentary film Leaving Fear Behind. Dhondup Wangchen's actions in shooting footage and interviewing Tibetans for a film however do not constitute a crime under Chinese law.

Dhondup Wangchen is innocent. He is being unjustly persecuted for exercising his basic right to freedom of expression recognized under the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights.

There are serious fears for Dhondup Wangchen's welfare as he is being held incommunicado, without being allowed family visits. He is not being given treatment although he is in poor health and has Hepatitis B. I join tens of thousand of people worldwide in calling on you to release Dhondup Wangchen immediately and unconditionally and to drop all the charges against him. Please insist that he is given access to medical treatment immediately and to a lawyer of his choice, as well as the visiting right for his relatives which to which he is entitled.

Furthermore, I call on the PR China to release all those Tibetans detained in China's violent crackdown and to engage in meaningful negotiations with the Tibetan government-in-exile to resolve the Tibet issue once and for all. China must adhere to the stipulations of Universal Declaration of Human Rights and stop persecuting Tibetans arbitrarily and against recognized legal standards.

Thanking you, yours faithfully,

Your Excellency,
